

Sarah Schmalbach is STYLE's web content editor. She's traded in her pen and paper for HTML, and is always in search of the next great blog. Got a tip? E-mail her at sarahs@dlqmedia.com.

STYLE Romances Kildare's

STYLE got hands-on last night at our Romance Issue Release party. Kildare's might have played host, but our COO Dana Spain-Smith was everyone's favorite bartender.

Dana behind the bar with Mark Kane

Paul Loftland was on Last Word shots, STYLE's own Nichole was on top of the event planning and I was on fashion patrol to pick our best-dressed guest. Congrats to Andrea from Cherry Hill, who wore a fantastic scallop-print green and bronze wrap dress, and earned herself a $100 gift certificate to Johnny Mananas.

Heineken and Finlandia flowed, people mingled around the two stocked bars and trays of delicious apps (the grilled goat cheese, apple and honey sandwich bites were a favorite!) and lots of pics were snapped for the social pages.

And we swear that we weren't seeing things (or at least not seeing double), but someone in a Scottish kilt and a man with a handlebar moustache were both spotted. Why not?

Our next issue release party is being planned for March and since the RSVP list will be capped, we're sending out an advance invite to STYLE Club members. So if you want to be there for sure (and get that phone number you sorely regret not asking for last night), sign up today.

See you in March!

Posted By: Sarah Schmalbach
January 12, 2007 in About Last Night...